

How to Update to the Newest Version of UNIFI Pro

Last Modified on 09/07/2021 2:01 pm EDT

Updates can happen in two ways, depending on how your company has asked us to set it up:

Users update the UNIFI add-on themselves:

By default, UNIFI will automatically update following a new release. With all design programs closed, UNIFI will automatically update at the next launch of the software from either the desktop shortcut or from the Start Menu.

Your IT department does it for you:

In many instances where a company's IT department deploys the software, the automatic updates are turned off and a new deployment from IT will be needed to get the latest version of UNIFI installed. Company Admins should be notified of new updates as they are released.

If you have any further questions on updating UNIFI, please do not hesitate to reach out to our support team. We are happy to help!
